54.2 The opinion dt.21.9.2024 received from PCI advocate Shri Ajay Singh was placed before the EC. The relevant para of opinion dt.21.9.2024 is quoted below –

The schedule mentioned in this judgment is also mandatory for Pharmacy Council of India as at that point of time the Pharmacy education was also partially managed by AICTE and the same is already followed also. It shall be applicable of PCI till the Pharmacy Council does not file an application for re-scheduling the same.

In other words, this schedule for Pharmacy Institutions as per this judgment is as follows:

Last date for receipt of application for approval	-31 December
Last date or inspection of institutions	-15 March
Last date of grant of approval to any institute	-15 April
Last date of communication of grant of approval to any institute	-15 April

After reading this judgment in the light of Pharmacy Act and Regulations framed thereunder, it is crystal clear that the Pharmacy Council should open its portal either in October or November of that calendar year for inviting application/SIF from each and every institution for granting approval for a new course of study for coming academic year and has to fix last date of uploading the SIF on or before 31st December of that calendar year.

The Inspection of institutions desirous for running a new course of study in Pharmacy Education as per requirement of Pharmacy Act and Regulation is required to be completed by 15 March of the coming calendar year.

The PCI has to take decision of approval or rejection by the 15 April of the coming calendar year and all kind of communication has to be completed on or before 30 April of the coming calendar year.

In the light of the above schedule as fixed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court, it is required take a decision for opening of portal of Pharmacy Council of India at earliest for filing of SIF for granting approval for academic year 2025-26 by which the PCI would follow the entire schedule in its letter and spirit otherwise we will have to file unnecessarily extension of schedule application before Hon'ble Supreme Court for academic year 2025-26 which should be avoided except under unforeseen circumstances. Opined ~ accordingly.

Equivalency of foreign qualifications with Indian qualifications u/s 14 of the Pharmacy Act, 1948

Dr B Suresh

Former President, Pharmacy Council of India

Pro Chancellor, JSS Academy of Higher Education and Research, Mysuru

Introduction

- Under Section 14 of the Pharmacy Act, 1948, the Pharmacy Council of India (PCI) is empowered to recognize and evaluate foreign pharmacy qualifications to determine their equivalency with Indian pharmacy qualifications. This provision primarily allows for the recognition of qualifications obtained from institutions outside India, ensuring that foreign-qualified pharmacists meet Indian standards for education and practice.

Recognition Process and Scope

- The Pharmacy Council of India evaluates foreign qualifications to determine if they meet the standards prescribed under the Indian educational system for pharmacy.
- The Council has the authority to recognize foreign pharmacy degrees or diplomas as equivalent to the qualifications obtained in India.
- The equivalency applies to qualifications that are obtained from institutions abroad and is necessary for foreign-qualified pharmacists seeking to practice in India.
- This recognition is important for those who wish to register as pharmacists in India, as registration is mandatory for legal pharmacy practice under the Act.

Process for Recognition

- A foreign-qualified pharmacist or the foreign institution can apply to the PCI for recognition of their qualification.
- The PCI reviews the curriculum, standards, and other educational criteria of the foreign institution.
- If the PCI is satisfied that the foreign qualification is equivalent to an Indian pharmacy qualification, it will issue a notification recognizing the qualification.
- Once a foreign qualification is recognized, it is notified in the official gazette by the PCI.
- These recognized qualifications are then treated at par with Indian pharmacy degrees for the purpose of registration and practice.

Challenges and Considerations

- Foreign qualifications may not always be considered equivalent if the curriculum or clinical training requirements do not match Indian standards.
- In cases where the equivalency is not immediately clear, the PCI may require additional documentation, curriculum analysis, or evaluations.
- Foreign-qualified pharmacists must ensure that their qualification is recognized by the PCI before they can apply for registration and practice in India.
- If their qualification is not recognized, they may need to undergo further education or assessments to meet Indian standards.

Summary and Recommendations

- PCI should ensure that foreign qualifications meet the required standards before they are accepted for practice in India, safeguarding the quality and consistency of pharmacy education and practice in the country.

Recognition of medical qualifications by National Medical Commission

- The National Medical Commission (NMC), which replaced the Medical Council of India (MCI) in 2020, is responsible for the recognition of medical qualifications, including those obtained from foreign institutions.
- The process and rules for recognizing foreign medical qualifications are governed by the NMC under the National Medical Commission Act, 2019.

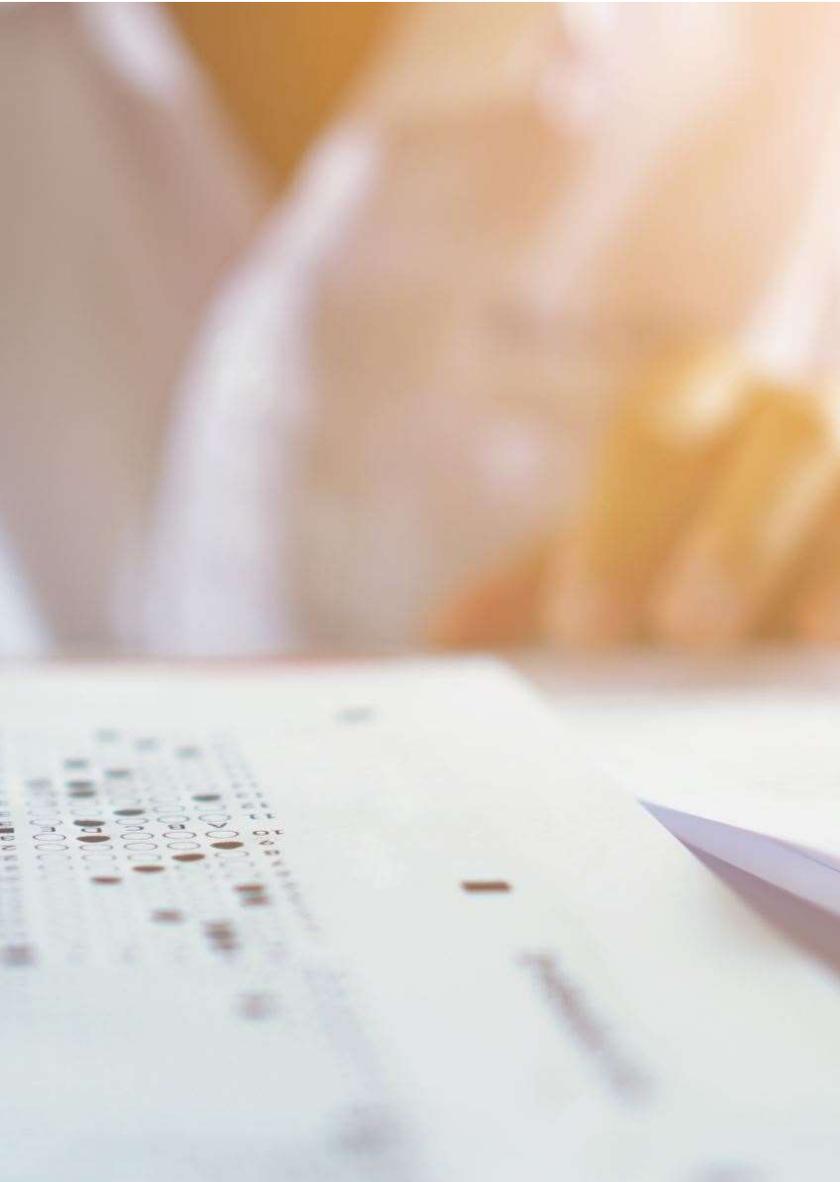

Key Process for Recognition of Foreign Medical Qualifications

Eligibility for Foreign Medical Graduates (FMGs):

- Foreign Medical Graduates (FMGs) are individuals who have completed their medical education outside India and wish to practice in India.
- To be recognized, the medical qualifications obtained abroad must be from institutions listed by the NMC as recognized foreign medical institutions.

Foreign Medical Graduate Examination (FMGE):

- FMGs are required to clear the Foreign Medical Graduate Examination (FMGE), which is a screening test conducted by the National Board of Examinations (NBE).
- This examination ensures that the medical education of foreign graduates is comparable to Indian standards.
- The test consists of multiple-choice questions, and a minimum passing score is required for the individual to be eligible for further processes.

Registration with NMC:

- Once an FMG clears the FMGE, they can apply for registration with the NMC (or the relevant State Medical Council).
- The FMG must provide proof of passing the FMGE, along with other necessary documentation, including the original degree certificate from the foreign institution, a completion certificate, and a certificate of good standing from the relevant authorities.

Additional Requirements:

- In some cases, FMGs may be required to undergo additional training or internships in India to bridge any gaps between the foreign medical curriculum and Indian standards. This is particularly important in clinical settings.
- The Compulsory Rotating Internship must be completed at recognized medical institutions in India after passing the FMGE.

National Exit Test (NEXT) (upcoming reform):

- As per recent reforms under the National Medical Commission Act, 2019, the FMGE is likely to be replaced by the National Exit Test (NEXT), a common qualifying exam for both Indian and foreign medical graduates.
- NEXT will serve as a licensure examination for medical graduates to practice in India and as a screening test for FMGs. This reform aims to bring uniformity in the evaluation of medical professionals trained both in India and abroad.

Recognition of Foreign Institutions:

- The NMC periodically reviews and updates the list of recognized foreign medical institutions. Only qualifications from these recognized institutions are considered valid for FMGE or NEXT eligibility.
- Students intending to pursue medical education abroad should verify whether the institution they choose is listed by the NMC.

Steps for FMGs to Practice in India:

Obtain a degree from a recognized foreign medical institution.

Pass the FMGE (or NEXT when implemented).

Apply for provisional or permanent registration with the NMC or State Medical Council.

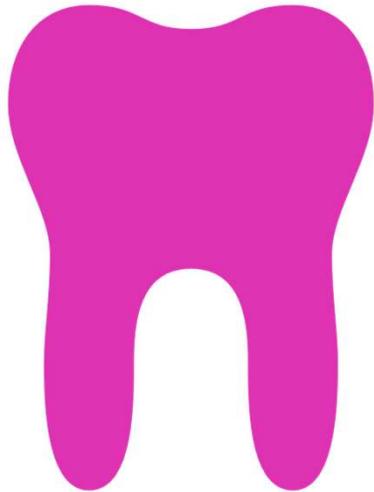

Complete a compulsory rotating internship (if required).

Challenges and Summary

- Some foreign medical qualifications may not be recognized, particularly if the curriculum or clinical training significantly deviates from Indian standards.
- FMGs may face difficulty if their institution is not on the NMC's list of recognized institutions, which can lead to rejection of their application for registration.
- In summary, the NMC ensures that foreign medical graduates meet the necessary standards for practicing medicine in India by conducting screening tests, evaluating the foreign institution's curriculum, and setting criteria for recognition and registration. This process is designed to maintain the quality and safety of medical practice in India.

Recognition of Dental Degrees

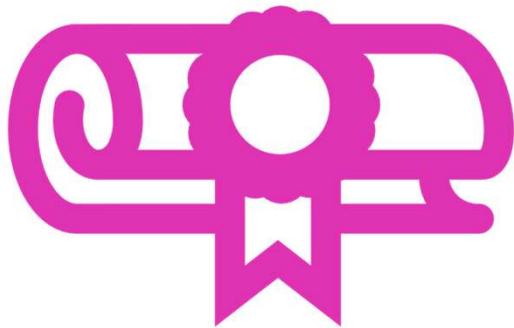

- The Dentists Act, 1948, which governs the Dental Council of India (DCI), contains provisions for the recognition of foreign dental qualifications. The relevant sections dealing with the recognition of qualifications and the rights of foreign dental graduates to practice in India include the following:
 1. Section 10 – Recognition of Foreign Dental Qualifications: Section 10 of the Dentists Act, 1948, specifically addresses the recognition of dental qualifications granted by dental institutions outside India.
 2. This section empowers the Dental Council of India (DCI) to recognize foreign dental qualifications if the qualifications meet the standards of dental education prescribed by the DCI.
 3. It states that the DCI, with the approval of the central government, may recognize foreign qualifications if they are deemed equivalent to qualifications awarded by dental institutions in India.

Key provision:

- The central government, in consultation with the DCI, may notify in the Official Gazette the foreign qualifications that are recognized.
- If a foreign qualification is recognized, the holder of that qualification is entitled to the same rights for registration and practice as those with Indian dental qualifications.

Section 12 – Rights of Persons Possessing Recognized Foreign Dental Qualifications:

- Section 12 deals with the rights of individuals who hold recognized foreign dental qualifications.
- It states that a person who holds a dental qualification granted by a foreign institution recognized under Section 10 will have the same privileges for registration and practice as someone who holds a recognized qualification from an Indian institution.
- However, if the foreign qualification is not recognized, the individual will not be eligible for registration or practice in India.

Section 15 – Registration of Dentists:

While this section mainly deals with the registration of dentists holding recognized Indian qualifications, it also applies to foreign dental graduates whose qualifications are recognized by the DCI under Section 10.

Only individuals whose qualifications are recognized by the DCI (whether Indian or foreign) are eligible to be registered with the State Dental Council or the DCI, granting them the legal right to practice dentistry in India.

Recognition and Screening Test:

Though the Screening Test requirement for foreign dental graduates is not explicitly mentioned in the Dentists Act itself, it is a practice that has evolved through regulations set by the DCI to ensure that foreign dental graduates meet the standards required to practice in India.

The Screening Test Regulations, 2009, issued by the DCI, specify the examination process and conditions under which foreign dental graduates must qualify before they can be registered to practice.

Summary

Section 10 of the Dentists Act, 1948, provides for the recognition of foreign dental qualifications by the Dental Council of India.

Section 12 grants individuals holding recognized foreign qualifications the right to practice in India, subject to meeting the standards set by the DCI.

These sections ensure that the DCI maintains control over the standards of dental education and practice in India, even for those who have qualified from foreign institutions.

The Screening Test Regulations 2009 of DCI

- The Screening Test Regulations, 2009 of the Dental Council of India (DCI) were formulated to govern the process of evaluating foreign dental graduates who wish to practice in India. These regulations specify the requirements and procedures for conducting the screening test, which ensures that foreign dental graduates possess the necessary knowledge and skills to practice dentistry at par with Indian standards.
- Key Features of the DCI Screening Test Regulations, 2009:
 - 1. Purpose of the Screening Test:
 1. The screening test is mandatory for individuals who have obtained a dental degree from a foreign institution and wish to practice dentistry in India.
 2. The aim of the test is to evaluate whether the education and training received abroad meet the required standards for dental practice in India.

Eligibility to Appear for the Screening Test:

- The candidate must have obtained a dental qualification from a foreign dental institution recognized by the Dental Council of India (DCI).
- If the foreign qualification is not recognized by the DCI, the individual will not be eligible to appear for the screening test or register to practice in India.
- The candidate should also meet other criteria related to the duration of the course, practical training, and clinical exposure, as prescribed by the DCI.

Examination Format:

- The screening test is designed to assess both theoretical knowledge and clinical skills. It may consist of multiple-choice questions (MCQs) and practical or clinical assessments.
- The test typically covers topics in dentistry such as oral surgery, prosthodontics, orthodontics, periodontics, endodontics, and other dental specialties.

Examination Format:

- The screening test is designed to assess both theoretical knowledge and clinical skills. It may consist of multiple-choice questions (MCQs) and practical or clinical assessments
- .The test typically covers topics in dentistry such as oral surgery, prosthodontics, orthodontics, periodontics, endodontics, and other dental specialties.

Frequency of the Examination:

- The screening test is conducted by the National Board of Examinations (NBE) or other designated bodies at intervals prescribed by the DCI.
- The frequency and dates of the examination are announced in advance to allow candidates to apply and prepare accordingly.

Passing Criteria:

- The candidate must achieve the minimum qualifying marks as determined by the DCI in order to pass the screening test.
- Candidates who do not meet the minimum passing marks will not be eligible for registration with the DCI or State Dental Councils.

Registration after Passing the Test:

- Candidates who pass the screening test are eligible to apply for provisional or permanent registration with the DCI or the relevant State Dental Council.
- Upon successful registration, the individual can legally practice dentistry in India.

Training or Internship (if required):

- In some cases, the DCI may require candidates to undergo additional clinical training or a compulsory rotating internship in a recognized dental college in India before granting permanent registration.
- This ensures that the candidates have practical experience in clinical settings in line with Indian dental standards.

Exemptions:

- The regulations may provide exemptions for certain candidates, particularly those who hold qualifications from countries with which India has bilateral agreements regarding mutual recognition of dental qualifications.
- Such exemptions are granted only if the DCI deems the foreign qualification to be fully equivalent to an Indian dental degree.

Appeal Mechanism:

- If a candidate feels aggrieved by the outcome of the screening test or the recognition process, there may be an appeal process where they can request a review or reconsideration by the DCI.

Conclusion:

- The Screening Test Regulations, 2009, established by the Dental Council of India, aim to assess the competency of foreign dental graduates through a standardized examination process.
- These regulations are essential for ensuring that foreign-trained dentists meet the required standards of education and clinical practice before they are allowed to practice in India.
- This process protects public health and ensures high standards in dental care.

Recognition of Foreign Qualifications by Nursing Council of India nurses

The Indian Nursing Council (INC), established under the Indian Nursing Council Act, 1947, is the regulatory body responsible for ensuring the uniform and high standards of nursing education and practice in India. When it comes to foreign nursing qualifications, the INC has set specific guidelines for the recognition and registration of foreign-trained nurses who wish to practice in India.

Recognition of Foreign Nursing Qualifications by the Indian Nursing Council (INC):

1. Eligibility for Foreign Nursing Graduates:

1. Nurses who have obtained their qualifications outside India and wish to practice in India must have their qualifications recognized by the Indian Nursing Council (INC).
2. The foreign qualification must meet the prescribed standards of nursing education and clinical training as established by the INC.

Recognition Process:

- The INC evaluates the curriculum, training, and clinical exposure of the foreign nursing institution. If the foreign nursing qualification meets Indian standards, it may be recognized, allowing the foreign nurse to register with the State Nursing Council in India.
- The INC may request specific documentation, such as the curriculum, degree certificates, training details, and a letter of good standing from the foreign institution or regulatory authority.

Registration with the State Nursing Council:

- After the recognition of the foreign qualification by the INC, the nurse can apply for registration with the relevant State Nursing Council.
- Registration with the State Nursing Council is essential to legally practice nursing in India.
- Once registered, the foreign-trained nurse enjoys the same rights and privileges as nurses with Indian qualifications.

Screening Test (if required):

- In some cases, particularly if the foreign qualification is from a country where the nursing curriculum significantly differs from the Indian system, the INC may require the nurse to pass a Screening Test.
- This test assesses the nurse's knowledge and skills to ensure they meet Indian standards of practice.

Bridge Course or Additional Training:

- If the foreign nursing qualification is not deemed equivalent to Indian nursing qualifications, the INC may require the individual to undergo a bridge course or additional training in India.
- This is particularly common for nurses from countries where the curriculum or clinical exposure is not equivalent to the Indian standards.
- The additional training typically involves practical work and further clinical experience at a recognized institution in India.

Recognition of Nursing Institutions:

- The INC maintains a list of recognized foreign nursing institutions. If the qualification is from an institution that is not on this list, the nurse may have difficulty getting recognition in India. Nurses intending to work in India are advised to check if the foreign institution they graduated from is recognized by the INC.

Mutual Recognition Agreements:

- In some cases, India may have bilateral or mutual recognition agreements with certain countries, which facilitate the recognition of foreign nursing qualifications without the need for a screening test.
- These agreements streamline the process for foreign-trained nurses from certain countries to gain registration in India.

Provisional Registration:

- In certain cases, nurses with foreign qualifications may be granted provisional registration by the State Nursing Council.
- This provisional registration may be granted for a specified period during which the nurse must complete additional training or pass the screening test before obtaining permanent registration.

Steps for Foreign-Trained Nurses to Practice in India:

Submit documentation of the foreign nursing qualification to the INC for evaluation.

Undergo the Screening Test (if required) to assess competency and knowledge.

Complete additional training or a bridge course (if required) to meet Indian standards.

Register with the State Nursing Council after recognition or passing the screening test.

Receive permanent registration to practice nursing in India.

Key Steps for Recognition of Indian Pharmacy Qualifications by the Egyptian Pharmacy Council:

Evaluation of Academic Credentials:

- The Egyptian Ministry of Higher Education or the Egyptian Pharmacy Council would likely evaluate the Indian pharmacy degree (Bachelor of Pharmacy, Pharm.D, or Master's) to ensure that it is equivalent to the Egyptian pharmacy curriculum.
- The evaluation would involve comparing the coursework, practical training, and duration of study with Egypt's pharmacy education requirements.

Application for Equivalency:

- Pharmacists holding Indian qualifications must apply for equivalency of their degree with the Egyptian Higher Education authorities.
- The application may require submission of academic transcripts, syllabus, internship details, and a certificate of good standing.

Language Proficiency:

- Since the medium of education in Egypt is primarily Arabic, foreign pharmacists, including those from India, may be required to demonstrate proficiency in Arabic.
- This could include passing a language test or attending language courses to meet the proficiency requirements for pharmacy practice

Licensing Examination:

- Indian-qualified pharmacists may be required to pass a licensing examination conducted by the Egyptian Pharmacy Council.
- The exam assesses the pharmacist's knowledge of pharmacy laws, clinical pharmacy practices, and pharmaceutical sciences as they pertain to Egypt's healthcare system.

Internship or Additional Training:

- Depending on the evaluation of the academic credentials, Indian pharmacists may be required to undergo an internship or additional practical training in an Egyptian pharmacy institution before being granted a license to practice.
- This helps ensure that the pharmacist is familiar with Egyptian pharmacy practices, drug regulations, and healthcare systems.

Work Permit and Registration:

- Once the qualifications are recognized, the pharmacist would need to apply for a work permit to practice in Egypt.
- The Egyptian Pharmacy Council would then grant registration to the foreign pharmacist, allowing them to practice legally in the country.

Mutual Recognition Agreements (if applicable):

- If there are any bilateral agreements between Egypt and India in the future regarding the mutual recognition of pharmacy qualifications, this could streamline the recognition process. However, as of now, no specific agreements are known to exist.

Ideal Steps for the Recognition of Foreign Pharmacy Qualifications by the Pharmacy Council of India (PCI):

Establish a Centralized Evaluation System

- Create an Equivalency Committee: The PCI should establish a specialized committee dedicated to evaluating foreign pharmacy degrees. This committee will be responsible for assessing whether a foreign qualification meets the required Indian educational and training standards.
- Develop a Database of Recognized Foreign Institutions: The PCI can create and periodically update a list of foreign institutions whose pharmacy qualifications are recognized based on their curriculum, training standards, and accreditation.

Degree Equivalency and Curriculum Review

- Submit Documentation: Applicants must submit academic credentials, including degree certificates, detailed course syllabi, transcripts, internship and clinical training details, and any other relevant documents to the PCI for evaluation.
- Compare Educational Standards: The committee will compare the foreign curriculum to that of Indian pharmacy courses to determine equivalency. Factors such as the duration of the course, practical experience, and clinical training should be evaluated.
- Evaluate Core Competencies: The PCI should focus on whether the core competencies covered in the foreign qualification align with those required in India. These include pharmacology, pharmaceutical chemistry, clinical pharmacy, and regulations regarding drugs.

Screening Test for Foreign Graduates

Mandatory Screening Test:

- Foreign pharmacy graduates should be required to pass a Screening Test to assess their knowledge and competency in Indian pharmaceutical practices and regulations.
- The test should cover subjects such as Pharmaceutics, pharmacotherapeutics, clinical pharmacy, pharmaceutical jurisprudence, and pharmacy practice, ensuring that foreign-qualified pharmacists can apply their skills within the Indian context.

Test Frequency and Format: The test should be conducted twice a year, with both written and clinical components. This ensures that pharmacists are equipped with both theoretical knowledge and practical skills.

Language Proficiency (if required)

- In cases where the applicant's education was conducted in a non-English language, the PCI may mandate an English language proficiency test (such as IELTS or TOEFL) to ensure they can communicate effectively in professional settings.

Practical Training or Internship (if necessary)

- Additional Training: If the foreign qualification does not meet Indian standards in terms of clinical or practical training, the applicant may be required to undergo a bridge course or additional internship at an approved Indian pharmacy institution. This will allow the candidate to gain experience in Indian pharmacy practice, drug dispensing, and patient care.
- Compulsory Rotating Internship: Like Indian graduates, foreign graduates may be required to complete a specified duration of internship in a hospital or retail pharmacy before final registration.

Mutual Recognition Agreements

- The PCI should actively pursue mutual recognition agreements (MRAs) with other countries that have well-established pharmacy education systems. This would allow automatic or expedited recognition of qualifications from these countries, reducing bureaucratic hurdles for pharmacists from specific regions.
- These agreements could be with countries like the USA, UK, Canada, and Australia, where the pharmacy education system closely aligns with Indian standards.

Provisional Registration

- Temporary/Provisional Registration: The PCI could offer provisional registration to pharmacists while they complete any required training or screening tests. This registration would allow them to practice under supervision in designated settings, such as hospitals or training institutions.

Final Registration and Licensing

- Permanent Registration: Once the candidate has successfully cleared the screening test, completed any necessary training, and met all other requirements, the PCI should grant permanent registration, allowing the individual to practice pharmacy legally across India.
- License Issuance: The license should reflect the recognition of the foreign qualification and enable the pharmacist to work in various sectors, including hospitals, community pharmacies, and pharmaceutical industries.

Appeal and Review Mechanism

- Transparent Appeal Process: The PCI should establish a transparent appeal process for candidates who feel aggrieved by the recognition or equivalency process. This review mechanism would allow individuals to seek reconsideration of their cases based on additional documentation or clarifications.

Establishing a Dedicated Portal for Foreign Graduates

- Online Portal for Applications: The PCI should create an online portal where foreign pharmacy graduates can submit their qualifications for evaluation, track the status of their applications, and receive updates on the screening test, additional training, and final registration process.
- Information on Requirements: The portal should clearly outline the necessary steps for foreign graduates, including detailed requirements for documentation, testing, and training.

Communication and Information Sharing

- International Collaboration: The PCI should actively communicate and collaborate with other international pharmacy councils and accreditation bodies to keep updated on changing standards and share best practices.
- Guidance for Indian Students Abroad: The PCI should provide guidance for Indian students seeking pharmacy education abroad, informing them about recognized institutions, degree equivalency issues, and necessary steps to return and practice in India.

Benefits of the Proposed Framework:

- Standardized Process: Having a uniform and standardized process for foreign qualification recognition ensures fairness and transparency, making it easier for foreign graduates to understand the steps required for registration.
- Ensuring Competency: The mandatory screening test and practical training ensure that only qualified pharmacists, with appropriate knowledge of Indian pharmacy law and practice, can work in India, thus safeguarding patient safety.
- Efficiency: The creation of a centralized evaluation committee and an online portal would streamline the recognition process and reduce delays.

Thank You

Draft Response from the Pharmacy Council of India (PCI) to the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of India for the Upcoming India-Egypt Joint Trade Committee (JTC) Meeting:

Subject: Inputs and Suggestions on Expanding Pharmacy Workforce Cooperation in India-Egypt Trade in Services

To:

The Secretary,
Ministry of Health and Family Welfare,
Government of India,
New Delhi.

Subject: Inputs for the Upcoming India-Egypt Joint Trade Committee Meeting on Expanding Pharmacy Workforce Cooperation

Dear Sir/Madam,

In reference to the upcoming India-Egypt Joint Trade Committee (JTC) Meeting scheduled for 16-17 September 2024, and your request for inputs on trade in services, the Pharmacy Council of India (PCI) is pleased to provide suggestions for enhancing collaboration between India and Egypt, particularly in the context of the pharmacy workforce and related professional services.

1. Potential Areas of Cooperation in Trade in Services

a) Collaborative Healthcare Models:

- Indian pharmacists, particularly those qualified with Pharm.D degree, with their strong expertise in pharmaceutical care and clinical pharmacy, can contribute significantly to Egypt's healthcare system by providing services in areas such as community pharmacy, clinical pharmacy in hospitals, and public health initiatives.
- Cooperation could focus on telepharmacy services, particularly in Pharmacovigilance and Drug Information services, where Indian pharmacists offer consultation and support to patients in Egypt remotely, utilizing India's advanced technology infrastructure.

b) Pharmaceutical manufacture and Supply Chain Management:

- India's pharmacy professionals who have graduated with B.Pharm and M.Pharm are well-versed in manufacture of medicines, supply chain management, regulatory compliance, and drug distribution systems. Collaboration in pharmaceutical logistics, including cold chain management for vaccines and essential medicines, would benefit both nations, particularly in light of global health crises.

c) Training and Education in Pharmaceutical Sciences:

- India, with its world-class institutions in pharmacy education, can assist Egypt in developing programs for capacity-building and professional development for its pharmacy workforce particularly in the areas of good manufacturing practices and global regulatory compliances. Exchange programs, online courses, and faculty development programs can be a focal area of cooperation.
- There is a significant opportunity to share best practices in clinical training, clinical trials, patient safety, and the ethical use of medications, which can improve the quality of healthcare in Egypt.

2. Key Asks of India on Market Access in Trade in Services

a) Market Access for Indian Pharmacists in Egypt:

- We propose establishing streamlined procedures for recognition of Indian pharmacy qualifications in Egypt. This can help Indian pharmacists work in Egypt's healthcare sector, contributing to local health initiatives and workforce expansion.
- PCI suggests that Indian pharmacists be granted work permits and licensure to practice in Egypt without excessive procedural hurdles, thereby creating an efficient mechanism for mutual engagement.

b) Access to Egyptian Healthcare Infrastructure for Indian Pharmaceutical Services:

- India's pharmaceutical service providers, including clinical pharmacy consultation services, should be given market access to operate within Egypt's healthcare system. This would allow Indian pharmaceutical consultants and telepharmacy services to expand into Egyptian healthcare.

3. Issues/Challenges Faced by Indian Services Suppliers

a) Market Access Barriers:

- Recognition of Qualifications: Currently, Indian pharmacists face challenges in having their qualifications recognized by Egyptian authorities. A mutual recognition agreement between the countries is crucial to address these concerns.
- Language and Cultural Barriers: Given that healthcare communication is critical, the language of practice (Arabic) can be a barrier for Indian pharmacists in Egypt. A structured approach to bridging language and cultural gaps would be necessary for success in this market.

b) Regulatory Differences:

- The differences in pharmacy law and regulations between India and Egypt may pose barriers for Indian professionals wishing to practice in Egypt. There is a need for a clear regulatory framework to streamline professional registration processes in Egypt.

4. Potential for Mutual Recognition Agreements (MRAs)

a) Mutual Recognition Agreement (MRA) on Pharmacy Qualifications:

- An MRA between PCI and the Egyptian Pharmacy Council would facilitate the mutual recognition of pharmacy qualifications, allowing pharmacists from both nations to practice seamlessly in each other's jurisdictions.
- This MRA could include provisions for credentialing, licensing examinations, and work permits, which would support Indian pharmacists seeking employment in Egypt's healthcare system.

b) Framework for Cross-border Professional Mobility:

- PCI suggests creating a bilateral task force to explore a cooperation framework that allows for the mobility of pharmacy professionals between the two countries. This could include:
 - Joint registration systems.
 - Recognition of training and continuing professional development credits.
 - Cross-border internships and exchange programs.

5. Other Suggestions for Expanding India-Egypt Cooperation in Pharmacy Services

a) Digital Health and Pharmacy Services:

- With India's strong expertise in digital healthcare technologies, Indian pharmacists can offer telepharmacy, telemedicine, and e-health services in Egypt. These services can ensure better healthcare delivery, especially in remote areas, through digital platforms.

b) Joint Research and Innovation Programs:

- India and Egypt can collaborate on pharmaceutical research and development, particularly in fields such as biologics, biosimilars, and vaccine development. This can include joint clinical trials, research partnerships, and knowledge-sharing in pharmacy education.
- There is also potential for India and Egypt to co-develop programs for pharmaceutical innovation, targeting diseases prevalent in the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) region, such as non-communicable diseases, diabetes, and cardiovascular disorders.

c) Pharmacy Workforce Development:

- India can assist Egypt in building a pharmacy workforce development strategy that includes upskilling and reskilling of professionals. This can include programs focused on pharmacovigilance, clinical trials, and pharmaceutical ethics, helping Egypt's workforce to meet international standards.

Conclusion

The Pharmacy Council of India (PCI) strongly supports expanding trade in pharmacy services between India and Egypt. By leveraging India's strengths in pharmacy education, clinical pharmacy, digital health, and pharmaceutical innovation, both countries can create a mutually beneficial partnership. We encourage the establishment of frameworks that ease professional mobility, recognize qualifications, and create opportunities for Indian pharmacists to contribute to Egypt's healthcare sector.

We look forward to contributing further and collaborating with the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare in this important endeavor.

Sincerely,

of international students in Undergraduate and Post-Graduate programs in Higher Educational Institutions in India Approach Paper Outline

1. Introduction and Context:

- Reference to the UGC Public Notice No. 1-2/2023 (IC) dated 26.4.2024.
- PCI's mandate to draft policy aligning with UGC and AICTE guidelines while maintaining the quality and standards of pharmacy education.
- Importance of ensuring that only accredited and well-ranked institutions participate to avoid any dilution in professional standards.

2. Objectives:

- Facilitate international student enrollment while preserving the quality of pharmacy education.
- Encourage institutions with strong academic standing to benefit from this policy.
- Support India's growing position as a hub for higher education, especially in the pharmacy sector.

3. Key Considerations:

- Selection Criteria for Institutions (HEIs):
 - Institutions must be NBA and NAAC accredited.
 - Institutions should rank well in NIRF (National Institutional Ranking Framework).
 - The importance of institutional infrastructure, faculty quality, and research facilities.
- Affiliation and Fees:
 - Define a transparent and reasonable fee structure for institutions applying for supernumerary seat admissions.
 - Affiliation fees should be commensurate with the institution's capacity to admit international students and ensure quality services.

- Foreign Student Enrollment:
 - Institutions should maintain a specified student-teacher ratio.
 - Track foreign student enrollment data for program evaluation and future planning.
 - Create an international student support system (including counseling, cultural integration, etc.).

4. Guiding Principles:

- Promote only high-quality pharmacy programs for international students.
- Prioritize student welfare and education quality in admissions.
- International collaboration and mobility of students should be encouraged but within a quality framework.

- Set up a phased implementation process, starting with top-tier institutions, then gradually extending to others based on merit and capacity.
- Continuous monitoring and feedback loop for policy adjustment.

Draft Guidelines for Implementation:

1. Eligibility of Higher Educational Institutions (HEIs):

- Must be NBA accredited with at least a “B” grade in NAAC accreditation.
- Minimum NIRF ranking within the top 100 in pharmacy.
- Demonstrated research output and international collaborations.
- Adequate student amenities and support infrastructure for international students.

2. Affiliation Fees:

- Tiered fee structure based on the institution’s NIRF ranking, student capacity, and accreditation level.
- Fees should be structured to support institutions in enhancing their international student services.

3. Admission Criteria for Foreign Students:

- Institutions should reserve a maximum of 15-20% of total seats as supernumerary for foreign students.
- Admission should be based on merit, standardized test scores, and fulfillment of visa and regulatory requirements.
- English language proficiency (TOEFL, IELTS) should be mandatory.

4. Quality Control Mechanisms:

- Institutions must submit an annual report detailing foreign student enrollment, academic performance, and student feedback.
- The PCI will conduct random audits to ensure compliance with the guidelines.
- Periodic review of eligible institutions based on accreditation and rankings.

5. Support Systems for International Students:

- Establishment of international student cells in each institution.
- Mandatory orientation and ongoing support for international students, including academic counseling and cultural adaptation programs.
- Provision of on-campus accommodation and medical facilities for international students.
